Youth, Killer Of Couple, Gets Death

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The admitted slayer of a wealthy vitamin distributor and his wife grinn ed as he was sentenced to the gas chamber.

David J. Seiterle, 19, was given the sentence Friday as law officers took elaborate courtroom security measures.

Sheriff's deputies posted strategically in the room and outside in corridors said they feared an escape attempt. They said a sheriff's training center was burglarized Wednesday and six pistols, four machine guns and a rifle were taken. They feared a connection.

Seiterle, who with two younger teen-agers pleaded guilty to charges of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duvel last August, remained silent through the five-minute formal sentence hearing.

A jury had condemned him to the death penalty earlier in the week. The Duvels were former residents of Wapakoneta and Findlay, Ohio.

The only emotion he showed was a smile when the judge said, "and may God have mercy on your soul." Seiterle's accomplices, Karl Gentry, 17, and Thomas Neil O'Hara, 16, were sentenced to life imprisonment in September.

The Duvels were tortured, stabbed and garroted.

No date has been set for Seiterle's execution.

Before Seiterle was brought into the court, the room was cleared. Spectators were then allowed back in one at a time after a close check by deputies.

Seiterle stood with his hands cuffed in front of him during the sentencing.

The savings "melon" was shared by 3,795 persons here. Banks elsewhere in the county also distributed checks to Christmas Savings Club holders.

'All Three' Fine, Kennedy Says

Mother May See Son First Time Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy visited his wife and their new son in the hospital today and reported both were "fine."

Then he made it unanimous, saying he, too, felt "fine."

Kennedy went to Georgetown University Hospital at 10:40 a.m. to see his wife and the baby—John Fitzgerald Jr. — who was born early Friday although not expected until mid December.

Some 70 people including nurses, hospital workers, policemen and reporters were on hand when he arrived in his white convertible.

With Kennedy was Dr. Janet Travell, New York City.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said Dr. Travell is the president-elect's doctor, a back specialist. He said she stayed overnight at the Kennedy home because she wanted to see the new baby this morning.

She had accompanied Kennedy when he went to Florida on Thanksgiving Day then had to turn around and fly back immediately for the birth of the baby.

There was no immediate word whether Kennedy's back, injured in his youth and again in World War II, was giving him trouble.

Word from the hospital was that Mrs. Kennedy and the baby were doing fine and had a good night.

The congratulations continued to flow in, with a personal message from President and Mrs. Eisenhower heading the list.

"Mrs. Eisenhower joins me in warm congratulations to you and Mrs. Kennedy on the birth of your son. We add also our good wishes to your little daughter on her approaching third birthday," the Eisenhower message said.

The Kennedy clan, from father to grandfather to great-grandmother, was delighted. Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to England, welcomed his 18th grandchild. And "delighted" was just the word from Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, 95.

NATO Group Asks Formation Of Nuclear Unit

Lawmakers Approve Proposal Advanced By Gen. Norstad

PARIS (AP)—Parliamentarians from 15 North Atlantic Treaty countries today recommended the formation of a military fire brigade with nuclear weapons at its disposal—to meet any type of Communist threats to the alliance.

The lawmakers unanimously approved the idea originally put forward by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied military commander in Europe.

They also asked that NATO be granted political control of atomic arms and delivery systems. At present, practical control of such weapons in the alliance rests with the United States.

Carry Only Advisory Weight

The resolutions passed at the closing session of the annual conference of NATO parliamentarians carry only advisory weight. They will be sent to the NATO Council for official consideration.

The proposed fire brigade would not necessarily have its own nuclear weapons, although this had been one part of the resolution when it was first debated. The final resolution simply said that the brigade "must be in a position to use" nuclear weapons.

The parliamentarians avoided any mention of NATO as a "fourth atomic power." Their resolution on the eventual control of atomic weapons simply urged the NATO Council to establish its own "political authority" over nuclear delivery systems and their use.

At present, Gen. Norstad needs permission from the White House before employing atomic devices, although he is pledged to consult the NATO Council if there is time.

Giving NATO political authority over the use of these weapons appeared to mean that in the future the supreme commander also would have to seek the permission of the 14 other NATO countries before dipping into his nuclear arsenal.

Only When Necessary

The parliamentarians said the fire brigade mobile striking force should employ nuclear weapons only where necessary to counteract a nuclear attack. Invoking Norstad's own speech earlier this week, they said the use of atomic weapons should result only from a "specific, deliberate" decision at a level higher than the commander of the basic combat elements.

Other resolutions urged greater coordination in the development and production of weapons and greater economic cohesion within the alliance.

Spaak told the 200 delegates a commonly controlled atomic force "would be the best means to furnish the alliance efficient means for defense and would also have a psychological effect, notably on the interior cohesion of the Atlantic Alliance."

Salineville Store Visited by Burglars

SALINEVILLE — Burglars broke into Leroy Orr's service station and the state liquor store, 176 E. Main St., early today but were unsuccessful in attempts to smash open the station safe by using the owner's tire changing tools.

An investigation was underway today by Police Chief Cleo Mellott and Deputy Sheriff Howard Gray in an attempt to determine if the intruders made off with whisky or other items from the state liquor store.

Papers were rifled in the store in an attempt to find money. Some pennies were removed from cash registers in both places.

The thieves also made off with four boxes of candy and a carton of cigarettes at the service station. The safe contained about $200 in cash.

The entering occurred between 4 and 7 a.m. today.

DRUNK DRIVER FINED

LISBON — John E. Morgan, 73, of Lisbon RD 4 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in county jail at a hearing Friday before County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was cited about 6 p.m. Thursday by the State Highway Patrol.

Meeting Results In 'Identity of Views'

Agreement on Feud Reached By Congo-Katanga Officials

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—One of the most troublesome feuds of the feud-ridden Congo—the secession of mineral-rich Katanga Province—may be on the way to a solution.

A dramatic announcement from Elisabethville in Katanga Friday night said three leading ministers from the central government in Leopoldville had reached an agreement with Moise Tshombe, president of the breakaway province.

Two Hour Meeting Held

A communique said a two-hour meeting was held in a cordial atmosphere and resulted in a "perfect identity of views" on a program of action in the "internal affairs of the former Belgian Congo."

As a result, said one of the Katanga participants in the meeting, a round-table conference on the future political structure of the Congo probably will be held in Elisabethville next month.

Tshombe set up Katanga as an independent state with his capital at Elisabethville 11 days after the Congo got its independence from Belgium on June 30. He took the action, he said, because Patrice Lumumba, then the Congo premier, was using disruptive Communist tactics to create disorder throughout the new country.

Burned Child Loses 9-Day Fight for Life

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Plucky Peggy Roller died Friday, 32 hours after the operation doctors hoped would help the 4-year-old girl survive critical burns.

Doctors at the Army's Brooke General Hospital agreed that the child's determination kept her alive nine days after an unexplained fire sent her screaming from her home, her dark hair ablaze. More than half of her body was burned.

Peggy's father, Maj. Harry Roller of El Paso, Tex., stood by her bed as her life ebbed away, then walked into the hall and said simply, "It's a rough world."

Three veteran sergeants, who each donated 128 square inches of skin applied to the burned areas on the girl's body in a two-hour Thanksgiving morning operation, were silent when told of her death.

Sgt. I.C. Earl D. Bieler, father of two children, finally spoke: "Well, we tried." M.Sgt. William M. Goodloe, father of three, and Sgt. I.C. Harold S. Orff, father of five, nodded.

Goodloe, 43, of Earlington, Ky., Bieler, 26, of Machias, Maine, and Orff, 37, of Milo, Maine, volunteered for the operations because, Goodloe said, "sometimes it might happen to one of us."

The sergeants will be hospitalized about two weeks, after which they will be given month-long convalescent leaves.

Goodyear Announces Car Tire Price Cuts

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A reduction in passenger car tire prices, effective Dec. 1, was announced Friday by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Vice President O. E. Miles said the price cuts range as high as 10 per cent, depending on the type of tire.

Miles said Goodyear also is offering a new guarantee on tires ranging from 12 to 30 months.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. had announced previously that it will reduce tire prices $1, to $4, effective Dec. 1. The company also announced new guarantees on tires for passenger cars.

Backbone of Congo

Katanga, with its riches of uranium, copper and other minerals, is the economic backbone of the Congo and is the center of operations of a giant Belgian mining combine.

One of Tshombe's quarrels with Lumumba was the Katanga leader's insistence upon a form of decentralized federal government which he said would be suited to the Congo's localized tribal structure. Lumumba favored a strong central government.

Congo President Joseph Kasavubu has sided with Tshombe regarding a decentralized federal government structure.

British Support U.S. Aid Appeal

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. economic mission led by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson headed home today from his European quest for means to plug the drain on American gold reserves. The biggest gain seemed to be British moral support.

Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon left London for New York in a U.S. Air Force jet plane after talks in Bonn, Paris and London. They declined to make any statement at the airport.

Britain promised support Friday for Washington's drive to persuade North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations to shoulder more of the common defense load and ease the strain on U.S. gold supplies, now below the $18-billion mark for the first time in 20 years.

President Eisenhower's campaign to conserve the gold dollar sympathetic support from all sections of the British press.

West Germany came in for sharp criticism for refusing to contribute to the support of U.S. forces in that country.

The Conservative Daily Sketch said: "The Americans—who have played fairly godmother to Europe for so long—are getting tough about the cost of their foreign policy."

"America could balance its books tomorrow by cutting down foreign aid alone. Britain, along with the rest of the Western Alliance, must accept the cost of unity, which is economic interdependence. That may mean paying out hard cash. It will also mean bearing some of the shocks now being borne by the American economy."

Newspapers noted the Americans did not ask the British for support costs for American troops standing guard in this country. But they insisted Britain must give its closest ally every possible help.

Victim Released After Payment Of $200,000

Second Man Sought; FBI Agents Recover $77,500 of Ransom

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A wealthy sportsman held 24 hours by kidnapers was reportedly under guard today as authorities sought a convicted murderer they said helped kidnap him.

Anthony Alessio, 41, was released unharmed after $200,000 ransom was paid his kidnapers. Alessio's family had been warned he would be killed if police were called.

FBI agents arrested a man and two women as Alessio's kidnapers and said a fourth man is still being sought.

Agents recovered $77,500 of the $200,000 ransom paid for the release of Alessio, who with his six brothers operates the Caliente Race Track at Tijuana, Mexico.

Ninety minutes after an unidentified man collected the ransom—one of the highest ever paid in the United States—the 210-pound Alessio was discovered handcuffed but unharmed in a San Diego motel.

Word of the kidnaping Tuesday night was kept quiet by the FBI and San Diego police until Friday night, at first to protect the victim and then to prevent tipping their hand to the abductors. Alessio was freed late Wednesday night.

Those arrested in Los Angeles soon afterward were Robert James Gorman, 29, an escapee from the men's prison at Chino, Calif., where he was serving five years to life for robbery; his wife, Ruby Elaine, 30; and Selma Clark Marrone, 25, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Marrone's husband, Frank, 31, a former bartender free on bond pending appeal of a conviction for second-degree murder in Alaska, is being sought.

The women wept as they were booked on suspicion of kidnaping, a state offense which carries a possible penalty of life imprisonment without possibility of parole. Bail of the trio was set at $200,000 each.

Alessio was reported back at his San Diego home under guard. San Diego police refused to discuss the matter, however.

Authorities gave this timetable: Two armed men accosted Alessio.

IBOP Promises Orderly Walkout If Strike Is Called

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters promised today at East Liverpool that its members will continue "in orderly operation of production until the final moment of the contract" in the event a strike is called in dinnerware plants at midnight Wednesday for lack of a working agreement.

The IBOP made the pledge as it awaited resumption of negotiations Monday at Cleveland with the U.S. Potters Association, representing management. The two sides were asked Wednesday by Federal mediator Carl Willmeth to meet in Cleveland Monday at 10 a.m. to open the third round of bargaining sessions.

A two-week negotiating session in New York City in early October and a second round of talks in mid-November at Cleveland both ended in stalemate. At the end of the second series of talks, the two sides agreed to meet again at the call of the mediator.

The present contract signed in May 1959, expires at midnight Wednesday. The IBOP already has served notice of a "no contract, no work" policy.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Trust In God When In Trouble

Some weeks ago in this column I said I would be pleased to hear from readers who would like to share experiences of answered prayer. A large number of men and women have responded to that invitation and I have found their letters both stirring and instructive. The experiences related are of great variety. A few of them I propose to publish here for the benefit of other readers. I begin with the story of woman in South Carolina. She had a really hard time of it, but God saw her through.

Dr. Peale

"Over 10 years ago," this lady writes, "my husband ran off with a 16-year-old girl, leaving me with four children and expecting another one in five more months. We had been living in his parents' home, but I didn't feel that it would be good to stay there any longer. So I moved into a little two-room shack, paying $20 a month rent and living on $17 a week which my husband had to give me.

"I had to start housekeeping with second-hand iron bedsteads and poor kitchen equipment. I already had a washing machine, but not in running condition. No pillows for my bed. Had to use a oil lamp because I couldn't afford electricity. Naturally I worried a lot about all the things I needed. But then one day I remembered the Lord of His word in Matthew 6:33...."

HOW OFTEN the great experiences of a lifetime begin in just this way! "But then one day...." One day you suddenly remember something you have been taught. One day you take your eyes from your difficulties for a moment, you lift them up and become receptive to God's guidance and help. This forsaken, distressed young mother remembered the great saying recorded in Matthew 6:33. "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Now what would that mean, to seek God's kingdom? How would a person go about it? Certainly it would mean trying to live by the values held up to us in our religious teachings. It would begin with right attitudes. Accepting without bitterness whatever God ordains for us — that would be part of it. Non-resentment toward persons who have hurt us would surely be another part. And another — the will to be undismayed when things look black, trusting in God's providence.

"I prayed about this on Tuesday," the lady's letter continues, "and I knew God heard my prayer." She then assumed that God would somehow cause her husband to give her more than the usual $17 the following Saturday. But her prayer was answered in a different and speedier fashion:

"That very evening a man came to my home saying that if I would agree to sell the lot my husband had paid a few dollars on, I could have half the money. I agreed and got just enough money to buy two pillows, have my washing machine fixed and have the electricity turned on. God answered that prayer even before I expected Him to."

"Nevertheless, the future still looked dark. What was $17 a week with so many children? A few weeks after the baby was born I was working, but in poor health yet. I was still trusting God to help me."

AT THIS POINT her husband asked for a divorce. The court could grant one only with her consent and on the grounds that he was living in adultery. She consented. Then as soon as the divorce went through, the man a second to another state, and all efforts to trace him merely brought the answer, "Whereabouts unknown." The prospect of alimony payments was out the window.

"For a while it looked like the orphanage for the children and the asylum for me. Responsibility was getting the best of me. The doctor said my head was in a serious condition." But at no time did this brave Christian woman give up. "I would ask the Lord to strengthen and help me."

And then, skipping all the detail of 10 tremendous years, she concludes with these words: "So — Today my children are at the ages of almost 16, 15, 13, 11 and 10. I am the leader of the Women's Missionary Band and also am Sunday School teacher. I am buying a four-room house with complete bath and nice furniture. I had a physical check-up last week and was in good health. I thank God, for He did it all. You may use my letter if you want to."

SUCH IS THE TESTIMONY of a woman for whom God fulfilled the promise that if she put His kingdom first, ways of meeting her material and human needs would be made unto her. The big thing in time of trouble is to remember God and His righteousness. Ask His help. Heed His teachings. Meet your responsibilities to the best of your ability. Make use of each day's opportunities. And have faith in God's love.

He will never let you down if you hold Him up.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sometimes a face is striking. It isn't the sort of face you're accustomed to. It's a face you wouldn't have expected to see. But you have seen it! That's why you call it striking.

The Face of Faith is like that...

The eyes seem lifted toward the hills, to a source of strength. The lips are firm with a courage that rests neither on prowess nor weapon. The countenance shines with a joyous light... a light that seems to reflect some mystic Sun though the world around is cast in shadow and gloom.

I see the Face of Faith each Sunday... the face of a child... perhaps your child!

I am her Sunday School teacher—and the joyous light of that striking face inspires me to seek more faithfully in the worship and work of my Church the help of God.

You are her parents. How that confident, expectant radiance must inspire you!

Extending Unemployment Benefits

Gov. DiSalle's call for a special session of the General Assembly to consider a 13-week extension of unemployment compensation gives legislators, unemployed workers, politicians and Ohioans in general some out-of-the-ordinary decisions to make.

First and foremost is the decision that emergency compensation is justified. Unemployment is in excess of 172,000, upward of 6 per cent of the state's work force. That is the "trigger point" generally believed to be the emergency level of unemployment.

Further justification for extension of payments is the secondary purpose of unemployment compensation, which is to maintain minimum buying power when joblessness builds up.

Ohio business needs an influx of buying power not only for the sustaining needs of unemployed breadwinners who have used up their 26 weeks of payments, or are about to use them up, but for the special needs associated with Christmas.

FOR THESE TWO reasons there is unlikely to be strong opposition to an emergency extension of 13 weeks of BUC payments—from 26 to 39. This was done in mid-1958, to deal with the employment slump that occurred that year. The emergency extension expired at the end of 1958.

In 1959 an attempt was made to extend the benefit period permanently. It was our position at that time that no permanent extension was justified as long as emergency extensions could be made whenever needed.

It is our position now that another emergency extension is needed.

There is a mild political problem involved in the extension—the fact that the move is being proposed and must be acted on when the General Assembly has a Democratic majority that was wiped out in the Nov. 8 election.

The Democratic majorities in the House and Senate, even if they vote solidly, must recruit Republican help to put over an emergency extension. Republicans could block the emergency proposal this year and take it up in January, when the General Assembly will convene with their party in control.

In that event, Republicans could claim the credit for helping Ohio's unemployed. This way, Democrats most assuredly will claim credit.

The only way to sidestep credit-giving and credit-taking would be for members of both parties to support the emergency, proposal and depend on Ohio workers to remember this bipartisan support in the future.

THAT WOULD BE the wisest course—to take the emergency extension out of partisan politics by giving it bipartisan backing.

This is what the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Act is designed to do—cushion the shock of large-scale unemployment by providing minimum incomes for the state's unemployed workers.

This is the time to give the law a chance to work the way it must be made to work whenever an emergency arises.

I've Got Just the Job For You!

Conservatives In Congress

By PETER EDSON

Closer study of election returns shows that a strengthened coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans may have a much firmer control in the new 87th Congress.

The Republicans gained two Senate seats and 23 House seats, with four House races still undecided as this is written.

Relative strengths of liberal and conservative blocs and how they functioned in the last Congress can be illustrated by roll call votes on the area redevelopment legislation.

In the Senate, 45 liberal Democrats and four Republicans for a total of 49 voted for the Democrat-sponsored bill, 16 conservative Democrats and 33 Republicans for an equal 49 total vote against it. There were two senators not voting.

Next year, with two more Republican senators in Congress the conservatives will have a slight but troublesome advantage.

In the House, 179 Democrats and 23 Republicans for a total of 202 voted for the bill, 69 conservative Democrats and 115 Republicans for a total of 184 voted against it. The grand total vote of 386 indicates 51 congressmen not voting.

NEXT YEAR, with 23 more Republicans in the new House, the strength of the two blocs would be approximately reversed—180 liberals to 206 conservatives—assuming the same number not voting or a similar division of the unrecorded members.

This indicates president-elect Kennedy's program for a brave new liberal world may have to cross new frontiers of opposition. COPE—the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education—didn't do as well in the 1960 congressional elections as in 1958.

This year COPE endorsed 296 candidates—five of them Republicans—in the 437 House races. Of the 296 endorsed, only 155 were elected, with four seats still undecided, as this is written. This is a 52 per cent record of success. Two years ago 76 per cent of the COPE-endorsed candidates won.

In the Senate, COPE endorsed 23 candidates—two of them Republicans—in the 33 Senate races. Fourteen of the 23 endorsed candidates won, for a 60 per cent record of success.

What this record indicates is that presidential candidate Kennedy carried few if any House coattail-riders to victory.

This is just the opposite of President Eisenhower's record when he was first elected in 1952. In that election the Democrats lost two Senate and 21 House seats—almost the same Democratic losses as this year.

THIS REVERSAL is attributed in part to the fact that Kennedy gave little direct help to congressional candidates. The Kennedy national headquarters was too busy electing a president to bother much with congressional races.

Also, the GOP outspent the Democrats—$1,500,000 to $500,000 on Congressional campaigns.

One other factor was the religious issue, particularly in the mid-west where Nixon supporters also voted for Republican candidates for Congress. Labor-backed candidates lost heavily in states like Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

Still another factor was the big Democratic gains in 1958—when they won 15 Senate and 49 House seats—were in many cases political accidents. That is, the Democrats won in districts that are normally Republican.

This year the Republicans won back 30 of these House seats, defeating 17 incumbent Democrats who were supported for re-election by COPE and other labor union political action groups.

COPE-backed Democrats won seven other seats held by Republicans in the last Congress. This makes the GOP net gain 23.

ONE OTHER IMPORTANT revelation in the 1960 congressional election results is that the attempted purges by labor leaders James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters and James B. Carey of the International Electrical Workers were almost complete flops.

These two union presidents asked defeat of 56 congressmen who had played prominent parts in passage of the Landrum-Griffin labor bill of 1959. Only two were defeated, H. H. Budge (R - Iowa) and F. E. Dorn (R-NY).

Hoffa's organization is reported to have spent $1,500,000 in the campaign. But none of the labor political action groups has yet reported in full.

The Balletorio

By EDWARD S. KITCH

LISLE, Ill. (AP)—Two Benedictine monks have harmonized words, music and dance steps into what they believe is a new art form. They call it the balletorio.

They have woven abstract dancing into the oratorio form—a sacred lyric performed to profound music, of which Handel's "Messiah" is perhaps the best-known example.

"This is modern music with a purpose," said Fathers Alban and Mathias, the composer and librettist. They are members of the Order of St. Benedict at St. Procopius Abbey in Lisle.

"It's a story of the emotions of the people involved in the situations of the Bible," they said. "We've called it a balletorio only for want of a better name."

The monks have dedicated their work, a two-year project, to a Protestant choirmaster.

He is Dr. Frederick Toenniges, a violinist who once directed the Detroit Symphony and now leads the 70-member choir in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church in Naperville, near Lisle.

Dr. Toenniges has advised, encouraged and assisted the two clerics and will be in the audience at St. Procopius College when the balletorio, based on the Gospel of St. John and entitled "A Light for the Darkness," has its premiere next Wednesday. Father Alban will conduct.

Five soloists will be backed by a chorus and symphony orchestra in the two-hour performance. About 250 students, townspeople and professional singers and dancers round out the company.

For the performance the stage will be bare of scenery. Chorus and soloists will wear conventional attire. The dancers will perform in leotards. Abstract lighting will play on a backdrop to create a visual mood in harmony with the music.

The balletorio begins with the creation of the world and in song and dance relates the story of Adam and Eve, the birth of Christ, His Crucifixion and Resurrection.

Father Alban, 34, first teamed with Father Mathias, 39, eight years ago. Their work mainly had been songs for school revues.

Four years ago they composed a Christmas carol but found no market for it. They began writing their balletorio two years later.

Proof of U.S. Prestige

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Three Events Boost American Eminence

Three important events seem to have just given America a significant rise in percentage points on the imaginary barometer that supposedly measures American prestige in the world.

First, a Satellite today is circling the earth which supplies more scientific information and weather data than the Soviets have ever managed to get from outer space. Besides, it takes pictures of the earth and could conceivably be the forerunner of the "spy in the sky" that will make the U2 seem unimportant in retrospect.

Second, the Japanese people in an election that recorded some 40 million votes, affirmed by a decisive majority the policy of the Tokyo government which had recently approved the new treaty with the United States. All the commentators from the Japanese capital speak of the election as a vote of approval of the policies of the United States and as indicating support for the viewpoint expressed by President Eisenhower.

Notwithstanding the riots which were instigated a few months ago in Tokyo by the Communists and which caused such embarrassment that the government had to withdraw its invitation to Mr. Eisenhower to visit Japan—an incident which was blamed on the President during our own presidential campaign—it turns out now that the Washington administration was right all along.

THIRD, the United Nations, by a vote of 53-24, affirmed the position taken by the United States and the Western governments in giving a seat to President Kasavubu as the authorized representative of the Congo government.

The 24 negative votes included all the Communist states and some of their "neutralist" stooges.

There were 19 abstentions, which means that certain governments felt it polite not to offend either the West or the East.

Now the 53-24 vote of last week is not unlike that which occurred in the United Nations several weeks ago, only to be seized upon by Sen. Kennedy and other campaign speakers as evidence that the United States was slipping. The truth is that America still is able to get a majority to maintain the prestige of the United Nations as an instrument of world peace.

Everybody in government realizes that the Congo presents one of the most tangled problems that has ever faced the United Nations and there is an inclination to be tolerant and patient as the factional strife in Leopoldville continues.

The U.N. had to recognize some government and it chose that of President Kasavubu because he was legally elected and also gives promise of trying to get some semblance of order.

Behind the scenes, the Communists have been engineering the mischievous acts of Patrice Lumumba. Disorders have occurred in the Congo and even U.N. personnel had been attacked, but there was no way out of the dilemma for the U.N. except to recognize a government and hold it accountable.

NOT EVERYTHING, of course, that is happening on the international scene is favorable.

The U.S. secretary of the treasury, Robert Anderson, has been trying to get the government of West Germany to bear much of the expense of the American army stationed there. Naturally, the Bonn government, in the first of a series of conferences on this subject, could not appear to be ready to hand out millions of dollars to cover military expenses of allied armies without encouraging others, among them the British, to ask for similar payments.

It isn't going to be an easy problem to resolve. After many years of footing the bill for the protection of West Germany, the United States finds itself caught in an unfavorable balance of payments which in turn affects the price of gold in world markets.

Secretary Anderson is one of the ablest secretaries of the treasury the United States has ever had. It would be a ten-strike if Sen. Kennedy could prevail upon him to say on a year or two while a new under secretary is trained to take over.

Mr. Anderson is from Texas and has been a Democrat most of his life. He is a close friend of Vice President-Elect Lyndon Johnson and of House Speaker Rayburn.

In a quiet way, he has maintained satisfactory relations between the Republican administration and the Democratic-controlled House and Senate.

The problem of stopping the outflow of gold is one of the most serious of all the international that confront the new administration and on its handling may, indeed, depend the future of American prestige abroad, especially in the financial and monetary field.

'Fun Situation'

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of the standard "fun situations" for whimsicalists who tinkle funnybones is turkey-carving.

Every year at Thanksgiving a new crop of rib-tickling stuff is written about what happens when some duffer who couldn't cut up a weenie gracefully is given a knife and told to cut up a 16-pound turkey.

What makes it funny is that truth is stranger than fiction. Nothing I've ever read tied me in half as many knots as watching my brother, who is a medical doctor, make a mess of carving turkey while trying to cover his disfigurement and the baleful staring his indignant wife with a running fire of putter intended to be philosophical but coming out utterly sappy under the strained circumstances.

Nothing I've ever described about the humorous side of my own life was more ridiculous than the way my kid bride confronted me with a roasted chicken when my father and mother came to dinner the first time.

I grappled with that thing as though I had been accustomed to carving at the table since I was 6 years old. My father, who hated the job and made my mother do the surgery behind closed doors, leered at me. My mother chattered away under forced draft, fearing the worst. She knew something I didn't know.

The chicken wasn't done. It was the consistency of hot rubber—impervious to the knife. I walloped around with it for a couple of minutes, then announced belatedly what had been evident from the bell—that I was out-matched. We drove to a restaurant and had dinner.

In recent years, I have developed a certain ready skill with the carving knife where turkeys are concerned. If necessary, I can perform in public, although my best work is done with no holds barred and my coat hung up.

I discovered something. Anyone can cut up a turkey if he is permitted to hold the thing, without going through the sanitary ritual of keeping the job at arm's length with a fork.

For insulation, an old glove, a napkin, a potholder or even a shirt-tail will do. And the difference between triumph and fiasco can be made by one of those contraptions that holds the fowl in a fixed position.

There's no trick to it if the bird can't skid or roll.

Anyone with a sharp knife and an inclination to be Hamlet-like about doing what needs to be done can carve a turkey.

Oh yes, one more tip. Working space.

Make them provide a big platter for the turkey and a place to put its spare parts, to get them out of the way. A bucket under the edge of the table is handy. A nearby sink will do, or a pack of dogs.

It is also desirable to have someone stand by with a wet sponge and a dry towel, to keep things mopped up, including the surgeon's face. After all, those guys at the Mayo Clinic don't work alone. They have nurses standing all around them, to mop their brows, blow their noses, hand them the pliers and wrenches and pick up bone chips and chunks of gristle.

Some of the things people say about turkey-carving are preposterous, although if you stop to think about it turkey-carving is more preposterous than anything you can say about it.

No U.S. Super-Secretary Wanted

It is understandable why President Eisenhower believes a super-secretary with rank above Cabinet officers would be a valuable addition to the federal government. He tried it.

But Mr. Eisenhower can understand why the rest of us are as cold to the idea as the official staff report of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery, which had been discussing the possibility.

The staff report declares that only a president can take the responsibility that would be delegated to a super-secretary, who would

We Liked Him

We recall an unknown actor who appeared long ago in a bit part in a movie whose name we've forgotten. He was on the screen only briefly, but in a few flashes he made even a casual viewer aware of a powerful cinematic impact.

That turned out to be Clark Gable. He had cinematic impact. The movie people could analyze it. He made vast amounts of money for them and for himself with it. He never claimed to be an actor, although he was a better actor than he thought he was. He never claimed to be anything special, other than especially lucky.

People liked him. They helped him. He had the grace to respond in kind. In the motion picture colony, the called him "King," which was a way of designating him as their top banana.

We like him from that first time he stood out in a forgotten movie. We liked him most in "It Happened One Night," which is the one he liked best. His death has put "Finis" on on of the nicest show business success stories we know.

Later Than You Think

Downtown Salem is aglow again with unmistakable signs of the approaching Christmas season.

Lights have been strung by the merchants and other holiday decorations are much in evidence in and out of stores. As the festive atmosphere prevails a glance at the calendar will show that it's later than you think. Four weeks from Sunday is the day.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

There's comedy in the inclusion of Sophie Tucker among entertainers allegedly performing in New York night-clubs without a license. Police say the purpose of permit is to keep a check on possible crime records.

Only crimes Sophie is guilty of are: (1) Resisting Father Time; (2) carrying an overload of sequins; (3) violating the quiet zone laws through vocal gusto.

She is in her 70's, has been performing for half a century and has had a career sufficient to protect her from "Lady, I'm sure see your papers just to make sure you didn't figure in the Lizzie Borden hatchet case, the shooting of Dan McGrew or the disappearance of Judge Crater."

Could be, however, that Sophie keeps her girlish vitality so well that the police might confuse her with some kid performer who has just hit Manhattan and has not yet been definitely identified.

Sophie is accused only of failing to carry her 1960 license, which the police seem to rate with a failure to carry current auto plates, front and rear.

Few people knew that entertainers were classified as folks who had to carry licenses, front and rear, so to speak. Discovery that a comedian can't legally crack jokes without a card in niteries, and that a singer is not supposed to clear her throat without the "necessary papers" is surprising.

—Suppose a "comic" once got tangled up with the law. Is he more dangerous making people happy as a night-club entertainer than if he had taken up a career in plumbing, sign painting or circus clowning?

There are lads who are not bargains as comedians but no critics have given them bad notices because a permit showed they had once put a slug in a subway turnstile.

(Listening to some of the routines could lead to belief they were auditioning for a criminal record.)

There are cabaret performers who, despite the fact they have never been convicted of a crime, COULD BE seeking a conviction on the basis of their gags. But most of them are making the same fight for a living that the rest of us make as law-abiding folks, and don't rate gendarmes digging into their past lives.

If they have to carry special permits why not chefs, pastry cooks, waiters, customers who always want to play the snare drum and all toast-masters trying to inject terrible jokes in testimonial banquets.

PRESIDENT-ELECT KENNEDY, it develops, is a golfer. Despite the fact that there is no game in which so many Americans lose so much prestige on so many fairways.

Jimmy Hoffa is resting as comfortably as could be expected after the report Robert Kennedy, the senator's brother, may be named attorney general of the U.S.A.

Jordan Oliver, whose Yale team won all its football games, was born and raised in Brooklyn and Staten Island, never played football in school days and got his grid experience as a Villanova tackle. He used to commute with mainland by Staten Island ferry, which may explain his toughness in combat.

Eagles Rated 6-Point Favorites in Battle With Giants

Colts Expected To Feast on 49ers

Time Running Out for Other Clubs Expecting to Catch Division Leaders

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sometimes statistics lie. Sometimes they are meaningless. But there is one statistic more than any other that tells why the Philadelphia Eagles are leading the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

The Philadelphia team has scored 92 points in the last period of eight games it has played, an average of 11½ for each fourth quarter. Why?

Apparently because the Eagles' quick, sure pass receivers—Tommy McDonald, Bobby Walston and Pete Retzlaff—wear down the defenders and make them easy prey for Norm Van Brocklin's late-game passing.

That's what happened last Sunday when the Eagles, behind 10-0, controlled the ball practically the entire last half and scored 10 points in the final quarter to upset the Giants at New York 17-10.

And that's one reason why the Eagles are 6-point home favorites to beat the Giants (5-2-1) again Sunday and run the Philadelphia winning streak to seven after a season-opening loss to the Cleveland Browns.

If the Eagles' 92 last-period points don't seem impressive, consider that the Baltimore Colts, highest scoring team in the league through eight games, have scored only 59 in the final period out of a 238 total. Philadelphia's total is 211.

The Colts (6-2) hold the same position in the Western Conference as the Eagles do in the East—a game and a half lead with four to play. After a week off,

Browns Plan Changes Against Cards

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns may use the strategy of frequent defensive substituting to get more pressure on the passer when they play the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis Sunday afternoon.

This was indicated by the pattern set Friday afternoon in Cleveland's final extensive drill in preparation for the game.

The plan would mean more work for Jim Marshall, Larry Stephens, Jim Prestel and possibly Dave Lloyd.

Marshall, a rookie from Ohio State, started out as a regular but had some problems with team defense. However, he is strong and fast and capable of exerting pressure on the passer. He plays right end, where Paul Wiggins is the usual starter.

Wiggins also is experienced at the other end, where Jim Houston is the regular starter.

Stephens, the understudy for Floyd Peters, and Prestel, who works behind Bob Gain, both are fast for big men. Lloyd is a substitute center and extra linebacker.

"There is not much difference in the ability of several of these players," said Coach Paul Brown. "A change of pace in style may help."

"A blocker may get used to one style and then be upset when something else is thrown against him. We've been bringing these new fellows along rather slowly. They are just about ready."

All the Browns' cripples were back at work Friday and are expected to play against the Cardinals. Guards Jim Ray Smith and Vince Costello, who had been sidelined with injuries, appeared to be up to par. Halfback Ray Renfro said his injured knee felt better than it did a week ago.

The Browns will hold a brief final workout at Busch Stadium in St. Louis this afternoon.

4 Regulars Back From Last Year

Powerful OSU Cage Squad Opens Season Next Week

COLUMBUS — With less than one week of practice remaining before the opening game, Coach Fred Taylor is pushing his Big Ten and NCAA basketball champions in preparation for the game Thursday with Ohio University at Athens. The Bucks' first home game will be Dec. 5 with St. Louis University.

The Buckeyes will have four of last year's regulars: All-American center Jerry Lucas, forward John Havlicek and Guards Mel Nowell and Captain Larry Siegfried. Bob Knight, Orrville, O., junior, is expected to be the fifth starter, replacing graduated Joe Roberts.

Baltimore is home Sunday to the San Francisco 49ers (4-4), and the Colts are 15-point favorites.

If the Eagles can take the Giants they need only one more to clinch a tie for the title. Baltimore is also in good shape with only second-division opponent left on the schedule. Unless both conference leaders flop, the Dec. 26 NFL title game seems likely to be at Philadelphia where the Colts would shoot for an unprecedented third straight playoff championship.

The Green Bay Packers (5-4), who had the Western lead a few weeks back, lost their second straight, 23-10 to the Detroit Lions on Thanksgiving Day and now the Bears are the chief threat to the Colts.

Chicago (4-3-1) is favored by 22 over the visiting Dallas Texans (0-9) Sunday. The Browns (5-3) must whip the Cardinals (5-4) at St. Louis to remain in contention in the East. Cleveland is favored by a touchdown.

The East's bottom teams, Pittsburgh (3-5-1) and Washington (1-5-2), round out the schedule with the Steelers favored by 10 over the Redskins who held them to a 27-27 tie at Washington last month. Los Angeles is idle.

Ben Jones Wins OSU Varsity Letter

Salem's Benny Jones is among the 46 Ohio State University football players who received varsity letters for the 1960 season.

Jones, a place-kicking specialist, was credited with five minutes of playing time.

Guard Mike Ingram played the most minutes (334). Co-Captain Jim Tyrer was second with 329. Quarterback Tom Matte was voted OU's most valuable player. Billy Jo Armstrong won the honor of being named most valuable sophomore.

Ed Ulmer, former Brookfield backfield ace, won a varsity letter for playing 91 minutes.

Ohio Cage Stars Whip W. Virginia

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP)—In a high school basketball game which saw neither team ahead by more than nine points, the Ohio All-Stars beat the West Virginia All-Stars 74-63 Friday night.

Tom Muechek, voted the West Virginians' most valuable player, led all scorers with 22 points. Sandy Williams, voted a similar honor by the Ohioans, had 20 points.

West Virginia led 45-36 before the Buckeye State players came on strong, pulling up to 51-50 with two minutes left in the third quarter.

The Ohioans went ahead to stay at 60-59 with 3:40 left in the game. Ohio All-Stars 19 15 18 22-74 W.Va. All-Stars 17 23 15 8-63

Ohio State Football Attendance Sets Mark

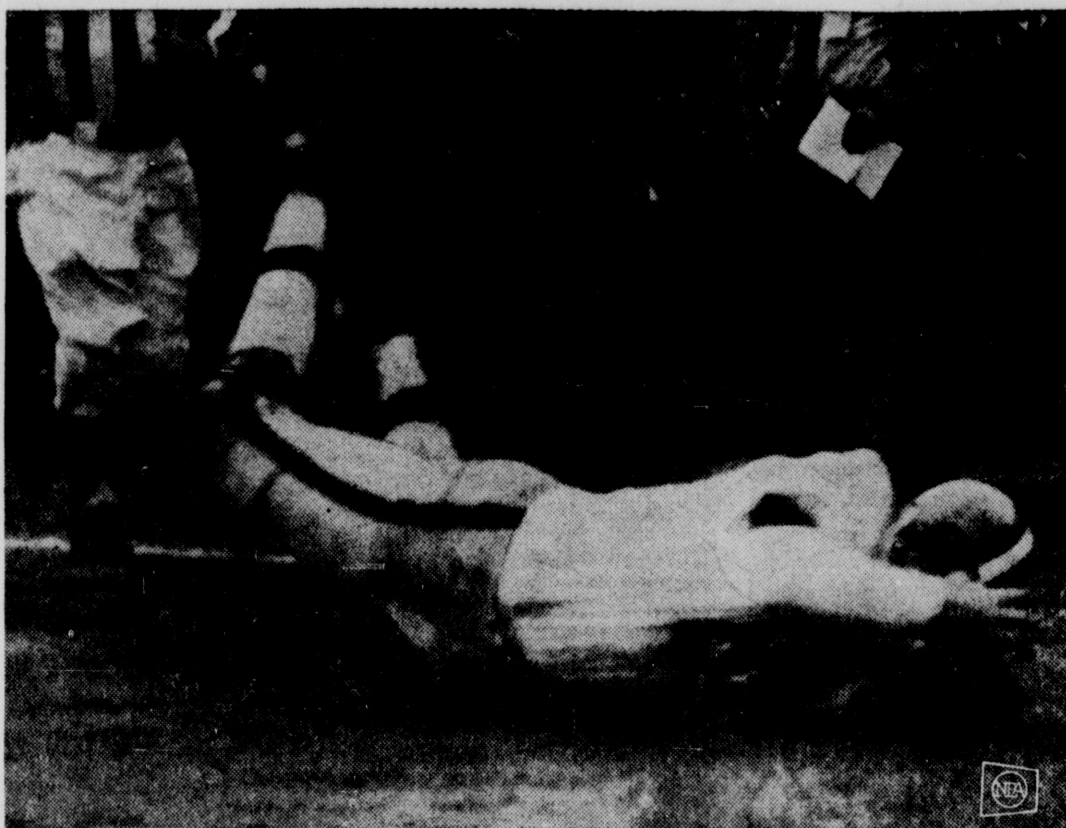

COLUMBUS—Ohio State University's football attendance for 1960 totaled 413,583 for five home games, a new record or a five-game season. The previous record was 397,890 in 1953. The homecoming game with Wisconsin topped the 1960 games with 83,246.

Other attendance figures were: Southern Methodist, 82,496; Southern California, 83,204; Indiana, 81,530 and Michigan, 83,107. Each of the crowds in excess of 83,000 falls into the category of the 10 largest Ohio stadium gatherings.

Attendance figures include press radio, ushers, stadium employees and other groups of non-paying persons. The paid capacity is 79,658.

Alliance Cager Also Lost

Eskay, Beery Injured; May Sit Out Preview

The Salem Quakers and Alliance Aviators, two of the four teams taking part in the basketball preview in the Salem senior High gym tonight, will both have key players missing from their lineups.

One of Salem's starting guards, junior Bob Eskay, suffered a heel injury in practice this week and probably will see no action tonight. Sophomore Bill Beery, who has been working out at both guard and forward, came up with a charlie horse in a scrimmage yesterday. He may see limited action tonight, Quaker Coach John Cabas reports.

CABAS INDICATED that his starting guards tonight will probably be Fred Harshman, 5-8 senior, and John Borrelli, 5-9½ junior. The Quakers will have three men in the lineup who stand 6-5. They are forwards Tod Couchie and Don Davidson and center Ted Thorne. Thorne is a junior; the other two are seniors.

Cabas reports that Ron Janovec, 6-3 senior who tried out for the varsity, has quit the team. Davidson is the only returning letterwinner on the squad. Coach Cabas believes that physically this is possibly the strongest team he has worked with at Salem. Although the team lack experience, the coach believes that the potential is there and as the season progresses it could develop into an outstanding ball club.

EVEN WITH ESKAY out of the lineup, the Quakers more than held their own against Youngstown North in morning and afternoon scrimmages here Friday. The Quakers also defeated Cleveland Collinwood and Austintown Fitch in scrimmages earlier this month. Alliance's big loss for tonight's preview is its six foot five inch center Doug Duncan who will be out indefinitely due to an operation.

BOWLING

Games of 600 and better were poppin' all over Saxon Lanes Friday. In the Classic League alone, five bowlers topped the 600 barrier.

Dick Hahn led the barrage with a 642 set which included games of 185-242-215. He was followed by Ronnie Shaffer, 621-212-184-225; John Balta, 614-203-234-177; Paul Shone, 609-225-181-203; and Bill Pauline 607-201-201-205.

Others just off the 600 pace included Orrie Snyder, 593-224-203; Dick Dowd, 592-225-213; Russ Stallsmith, 585-213; Bill Tullis, 584-211; Glen Oesch, 577-201-200; Vince Malloy, 577-203; and George Mitchell, 574-217.

Purity Dairy paced the team totals with actual scores of 2917 for series and 1017 for single. Corso's Driveln was 2908-1002.

In the Bliss Day Turn League, Eng. No. 1 came out on top with a 2886 gross for three games and a 1029 team high single. McCoy blasted a 615-213-191-211 and Albert was close behind with 601-189-220-193. Dick Dowd's 214 was the best single game effort in the loop.

Bill Bennett's 582-212 was the best series rolled in the Bliss Nite Turn League. Bob Senior's for a leg bone cyst. The Aviators received another blow when Bill Smith, the New Philadelphia star cager who moved to Alliance, returned to his home town.

Alliance will open the preview here tonight against Kent Roosevelt. Salem and Massillon will meet at 8:25. Salem's reserve and freshman teams will play during intermission at 8:50. Kent will take on Massillon at 9:15 and Salem will play Alliance in the 9:45 finale.

Elgin Baylor Hits 51 Points Against Pistons

By The Associated Press
Where would the Los Angeles Lakers be without Elgin Baylor? They shudder to think.

In the past seven games, Baylor has scored 320 points, almost 46 a game. The Lakers have won six of their last seven.

Their streak also has kept them within sight of the St. Louis Hawks, who are leading the Western division of the National Basketball Association. The Lakers trail by 2½ games.

Baylor found the range for 51 points Friday night and the Lakers whipped the Detroit Pistons, 141-128, in overtime. Baylor pulled the Lakers back from a 14-point deficit in the first period, kept them close in the second, broke a 116-116 tie in the final period and tossed in four points in a row in the overtime to settle it.

In the only other game of the night, the Boston Celtics, leading the Eastern Division, edged the New York Knickerbockers 111-110 on Frank Ramsey's two free throws with 15 seconds to go.

MIKE MCKEEVER TO WED

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mike McKeever, University of Southern California football star sidelined by a brain injury, obtained a marriage license Friday to wed blonde Judy Primrose.

Mike, 20, and Judy, 21, said they'd be married Dec. 3 in a double ceremony with Mike's twin, Marlin, and Susie Blackman, 21.

Barons Defeat Hershey, 4-2

Official, Bystander Injured in Brawl

By The Associated Press
The Springfield Indians held a fat 7-point lead in the American League today, but there may be trouble developing in the basement.

The Indians defeated the last-place Providence Reds 3-2 Friday night, but they had to come from behind with three minutes and six seconds to play to pull it out.

The main reason for the Indians' troubles was Ed Giacomin who made 34 saves for the Reds.

Ian Cushman hit with the tying score and just 30 seconds from the end, Floyd Smith fired home the clincher after taking a pass from Harry Pidhirny.

In other games Friday night, the Cleveland Barons moved back into third place by downing the Hershey Bears 4-2 and the Rochester Americans battled the Buffalo Bisons to a 4-4 overtime tie.

A brawl involving most of the players on both teams broke out in the second period of the Cleveland - Hershey game with Howie Young of the Bears and Wayne Larkin of the Barons doing most of the slugging. But most seriously injured were official Hy Buller and bystander Jim Mikol of Cleveland.

Buller received a slash on the right forefinger that required seven stitches and Mikol needed four stitches to patch up the back of his left hand.

Haas, Pott Share Lead in Mobile Golf Tournament

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Freddie Haas and Johnny Pott, Louisiana State University golf stars of 20 years ago, shared a shaky lead today at the start of the third round in the Mobile Open tournament.

Haas, veteran New Orleans pro who will be 45 in January, started the round with a 66-68-134 card, 10 under par.

Pott, 25-year-old Shreveport, La., player, also was at 134 with 68-66.

Both were pressed by Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., and Jon Gustin, Gladwyne, Pa. Gustin, tied with Haas for the lead after the first round, now has a 66-69-135.

Palmer will become pro golf's all-time money winner for one year if he can cop one of the first three prizes in the $15,000 meet. He needs $1,119.65 to pass Ted Kroll's 1956 mark of $72,835 in earnings. The top three finishers here get $2,000, $1,500 and $1,200 respectively.

AREA CAGERS AT MARIETTA

Marietta College's 1960-61 basketball roster lists four former Tri-County League cagers. They are Sam Hirt, 62 junior, and Dale Lane 6-1 sophomore, both of East Palestine; and Dale Wartluft, 5-8 sophomore, and Darryl Wartluft, 5-3 sophomore, both of Louisville. Hirt was a letterman last season.

KSU PLAYERS SELECTED

End Bob Gusbar and tackle Bob Hall, both of Kent State, were named to Miami University's all-opponent football team this year.

Houston Club Nears Crown

Lee Paces Oilers To AFL Victory

BOSTON (AP) — There were some furrowed foreheads around the Houston Oilers camp a couple of weeks ago. The Oilers were 6-3 for the American Football League season, Boston was closing fast and quarterback George Blanda was out with an ankle injury.

Enter rookie Jackie Lee. In his first performance a week ago he threw touchdown passes of 78, 92 and 73 yards in the mud and goo against Denver in a 20-10 victory.

And Friday night this tall, calm young man, 22, rattled the Boston Patriots' defense with his passes and mixed his plays beautifully in a 24-10 decision that all but wrapped up the Eastern Division title for the Oilers.

Houston now has a three-game lead with only three games remaining. They can't do worse than tie for the title. Boston and New York are tied for second at 5-6.

Lee completed 21 of 38 passes for 331 yards for one touchdown. And he set up two others with passes and directed a 74-yard drive that ended in a field goal.

Even with that performance, Boston stayed close and trailed 14-10 going into the final period. But Blanda hobbled in to kick a 16-yard field goal and a few minutes later Lee hit Bill Groman with a 40-yard pass that carried to the 4. Two plays later Doug Cline jammed across.

The game, played before a capacity house of 27,123, was the only action in the league. Sunday Oakland (5-5) and Los Angeles (6-4) battle for the Western Division lead in Los Angeles and Buffalo (4-6) is at Denver (4-6).

Tempermental Yank Advances

Mackay Boomed by Fans, Rallies to Win Match

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Barry MacKay was "ready to go into orbit" in the Victorian Tennis Championships today, but despite his display of temper he rallied to win a marathon 3-hour battle and gain the quarterfinals.

Keeping pace with the veteran U.S. Davis Cup star from Dayton, Ohio, was Chuck McKinley of St. Louis. However, 18-year-old Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., disappointed and was eliminated.

MacKay survived boos and catcalls from the gallery of 2,000 to beat unranked Wayne Reid 1-6, 3-6, 12-14, 6-0, 6-3. McKinley beat Reid's brother, Doug, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. Ralston went down before Barry Phillips Moore 8-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Bernard (Tut) Bartenz, Dallas, Tex., was eliminated by Mike Sangston of England, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Before he was calmed down by David Freed, the U.S. team captain, during the intermission after the third set MacKay seemed on the verge of elimination.

The tempermental Yank twice blew set point in the long third set and when he finally lost the set, he hit the ball high into the stands. The spectators booed lustily as they had done at MacKay's earlier tantrums.

Once MacKay turned to Freed, sitting in the stands, and exclaimed in a loud voice:

"This is a day I should have stayed in bed—but I don't have a bed."

The reference was to hotel quarters which the team found unsatisfactory. The Americans moved today into a suburban apartment house.

MacKay said the hotel did not have a bed big enough for his 6-foot, 4-inch frame.

Other players complained they were unable to sleep because of small rooms.

Freed said MacKay reported to the courts in a state of unhappiness over the living quarters and then had his jumpiness fed by a couple of questionable calls.

Former Salem High Athlete

George Reash Honored As Top Coach in Conference

George Reash, former Salem High football and basketball star, has been named Football Coach of the Year in the Lakeland Athletic Conference.

Reash just completed his second season as head coach at Margaretta High School at Castalia, O., where he is also an assistant basketball coach.

Castalia is near Sandusky and the Reash family lives just a few houses away from Earle Bruce who was head football coach at Salem before taking a similar post at Sandusky High this fall. Bruce was a guest at the banquet this week at which Reash was named Coach of the Year.

Reash was graduated from Salem High in 1950 and from Wittenberg College in 1954. He was also a standout in both football and basketball at Wittenberg.

Before taking over at Margaretta High, Reash was an assistant to Buck Ritchie, head basketball coach at Tipp City High School. Ritchie is another former Salem High athlete.

Reash, his wife and two children, Laurie, 3, and Robin, 2, spent Thanksgiving Day in Salem with George's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Reash, who lives at 577 E. 3rd St.

USS George Washington Sails, the Beginning of a New Era

A potent weapon for freedom, the fleet ballistic missile submarine USS George Washington cuts through the leaden reaches of the Atlantic, outbound from Charleston, S.C. The 100-million-dollar undersea craft opens a new era in warfare. Traveling beneath the waves on silent patrol, its 16 Polaris thermonuclear missiles are a threat of instant devastating retaliation against any aggressor thinking of surprise attack. It can stay underwater almost indefinitely. Its power and relative invulnerability are unsurpassed. More of these deadly craft are to come.

National Party Wins In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Prime Minister Walter Nash's Socialist Labor government was defeated in general elections today by the private enterprise National Party of Keith Holyoake.

The National Party won 45 seats in the 80-member House of Parliament, and Labor took the remaining 35.

Nash had a one-seat majority when the House was dissolved for elections.

It was possible that the count of absentee ballots would result in a change in one or two seats.

Nash conceded the election to Holyoake, however.

Two other parties in the election, the Communists and the Social Credit League, did not win a single seat.

The Labor party, with 41 seats, took office in 1957, running the Socialist rule it had exercised for 14 years from 1935 to 1949.

Foreign policy figured almost not at all in the campaign in which both parties stressed such issues as taxes and pensions.

The National party advocated a policy of incentive for private enterprise and ownership, including reduced income, gift and inheritance taxes, cheaper housing loans and abolition of compulsory trade unionism. Labor promised higher pensions for servicemen, increases in social security and slight tax reductions.

Commissioners Okay Annexation Proposal

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Friday unanimously approved the annexation of a 45-acre tract of land off N. Market St. by the village of Lisbon.

The matter now goes before Lisbon Village Council which has final jurisdiction.

Robert A. Williams of Lisbon, owner of the tract and acreage immediately south of it, plans to develop residential sites in the area and wants village water and sewer service.

At a public hearing in the commissioners' office Nov. 17, opponents of the annexation outnumbered the proponents.

Two Young Drivers Deprived of Licenses

LISBON — Traffic court hearings at the Courthouse have resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two young motorists, the fining of another and a warning to a fourth.

Judith Ann Sutherland, 16, of Alliance, received a 60-day suspension, and John D. Hall Jr., 17, of East Liverpool, 30 days, both for speeding.

A new type of radar is being installed at the nation's major airports to relieve ground traffic bottlenecks. Ordinary radar can detect planes in the air for hundreds of miles but does not give a picture of the airport itself or objects close up. The new radarscope developed by Airborne Instruments Laboratory, has a special antenna which can see planes, trucks and even men on the field in any kind of weather. Top photo shows Washington National Airport, the third airport to be so equipped (others are Newark and Idlewild). Bottom photo shows how it looks on the remarkable surface radar.

Kennedy

the president-elect's grandmother, for her 30th great-grandchild.

The object of all the excitement, baby John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., described by his doctor as "a very good looking — a very healthy youngster" with a lusty cry, remained in a nursery incubator.

There was a chance his mother, Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy, 31, might get to see him for the first time today.

The baby is expected to stay in the incubator another day and a half, according to what physicians describe as routine hospital procedure with premature births.

Mrs. Kennedy is scheduled to stay in the hospital 10 or 12 days. She has been reported doing excellently and resting comfortably after the caesarean section. She has had intravenous nourishment and a transfusion of two pints of blood.

Her husband, after hectic turnaround flight from Palm Beach, Fla., because of the unexpectedly early birth, finally got a good night's sleep.

He spent 45 minutes in the hospital—his fourth trip there—before going to bed shortly before 9:30 p. m.
